The Ess-See-nah Brethren Speak:

Hello beloved beings of great light, love, joy and presence. It is our divine honor to witness the expansionary experience of life that is pulsing through all in your world now. Hello beloved ones. Hello. Hello beloved ones. Hello. Hello beloved ones, Hello.

Two: The Divine Twin Cosmic Energy

For the signal of the universal cosmic energy that has come forward now is the divine twin. The divine twin that exists with all and the divine twin that has come forward now to offer to thee a mirror... an opportunity... a recognition. For indeed in the energy of what you would refer to numerically as a two is the energy of the divine twin and the sacred temple of the soul.

For in your world the sacred temple of the soul has often been referred to in many of what you call your great books. Within the great books, there is one phrase that has been repeated in different ways. We offer it to you in this moment, this way.

When two or more are gathered in our name, thy being is.

When two or more are gathered in our name, thy being is.

SRI & KIRA

THE MIRACLE OF SERVICE SERIES : 12 STEPS TO ASCENSION

Beloved ones of great presence, when two or more are gathered does not mean physical forms of being-ness. For within thy own temple of the soul, within thy own divine understanding, is the great two or more. And this is the re-ignition of the energy of the divine twin, the mirror energy that is before thee now that invites thee to recognize that you.... and you -- perhaps we offer it to you as the "You" with the capital Y and the "you" with the little y -- are the temple.

Two or More are Gathered

There is the form that has a conscious energy of self-preservation.

Let us begin with this sharing. The form that has the conscious energy of self-preservation may appear solid and it may not. It may appear solid and it may appear not. It is based upon the waves of energy and the vibratory energy that look through and beyond all form that determine this self-preservation energy.

When this self-preservation energy becomes the primary energy of the divine being of form, then the energy of this one aspect feels separate, feels alone, feels loneliness, feels disconnected, feels out of place, feels confusion, because this self-preservation energy has only an alignment to a world of illusion.

How can one hold on to an illusion when there is nothing there to hold on to?
It is the ultimate paradox and the challenge of the great experience of life form.

But when you offer the rest of the picture, a fullness and a garden of divine light come forward, and in the fullness and the garden of divine light, a temple is born. When the two come together in the recognition they are of the same one, a temple ignites and in the ignition of the temple, the divine one illuminates through the recognition that the two or more are and have all-ways been YOU.

There is no need to seek another to find thy energy.
For the word that you use to invoke divine spirit,
you may call it god,
or other name, is within thee.
And yet there is great confusion that you ARE thee, yet it is WITHIN thee.

For each is a divine spark of the cosmic ignition of one energy of divine eternal life. You are the spark ignition of the divine energy of one eternal life.

Thereby you are one aspect of all energy that is.
To be within the two... to ignite the temple of the soul...

is to recognize that you are ever present, ever-whole, ever-full, ever-aware, and ever-expanding.

In the temple of soul energy is the storehouse of all divine wisdom, and within this storehouse of divine wisdom, within this temple of the soul that is existent in the world as you call it now, there is a divine call that has come forward and invited thee to call forth this wisdom. For the two or more are gathered. And you are in the name of that which is the greater highest self, the presence that ignites your divine flame. The two or more are gathered in the name. The two or more are gathered in the name.

The Crystalline Ignition

You say, "I understand the two, how can there be more?"

The more is the eternal expanded expressions of all that has ever been, all that you are.

For you are more than one.

You are more than the two of this soul experience that creates a temple.

You are a multi-faceted, multi-dimensional being-ness, and in this multi-faceted, multi-dimensional being-ness, how often have you remembered thyself beyond the world of cosmic form that you are in now?

See the illuminated energy of great light that is seeking to come around you now.

Feel and experience this energy of divine illuminated light that is coming in around you.

Feel the experience of light, light, light.

This crystalline ignition is coming forward because within the two or more, within the temple of the soul is the fullness of the multi-dimensional expressions of all aspects. Within the fullness and the expression of all aspects, within the connection within the expression of all aspects, is the full manifest expression of thy experience now as the two or more gathering.

You are the two or more gathering.

You ARE the gathering.

You ARE the ignition.

The Extracted Understanding

And as you become this ignition... as you grow into this expanded field of conscious awareness, many will begin to remember formulas, aspects, essences, smells, aromas... we use the word...extracted understanding.

What we mean by this extracted understanding is as you say, "I know clearly how to do X, for I know and remember X, and yet bringing X into form Y is the challenge I am seeking to solve."

X into form Y will effortlessly resolve as you allow the illuminated energy to come forward and recognize yourself as the divine temple in perfect union now. In the divine temple within perfect now, in the release of the mind that seeks an X and a Y, you will connect again to the multi-expressional facets of all infinite wisdom.

THE MIRACLE OF SERVICE SERIES : 12 STEPS TO ASCENSION

You are this storehouse of wisdom.
If even one aspect of this energy has come forward for you now, then all of it, all of it, is ready to release.

Be careful beloved ones for you are playing in a field that is filled with many, many, many daisies. And each daisy is as beautiful as the next. And it is up to each being to notice this subtle shift in each daisy... to notice, "Ah yes! In this field I see the subtle shift in this petal. This is the balance of the formula I have sought. This is the essence of the divine illuminated experience that I have waited for."

You see beloved ones, you are in the moment of the full integration of the temple of the soul. The temple of the soul is when the two or more are gathered.

To gather the two or more you must acknowledge the two within and accept the more that is with you.

The two that is within and the more that is with you.

You are. And you have all-ways been.

And in this expression of energy and light, the mirror of the divine twin has been held up before you now. Your eyes may begin to feel brighter. Your eyes may need to readjust. You may even feel a slight sensation that some would perceive as dryness because the mirror can be very bright. And there are some who will turn away from the mirror and say I choose not to see. This is all in divine order.

And as each has chosen, so as the temple of the temple of the soul energy has opened up for you to expand and embrace and be a part of again, each being has the mirror before them now.

What do you see? What do you see? For all temples are being invited to ignite.

When two are more are gathered.

When two or more are gathered.

One with the Crystalline Grid

In the ignited energy of the temple of the soul you will find great synchronistic and joy-filled experiences with others who have been ignited in the temple of the soul. And those who have not will find discomfort in their experience of the two as one. Feeling alone....Or two united in divine process.

It is easier to receive when both hands are open.

It is easier to serve when both hands are available.

It is easier to give when both hands are free from the burden of feeling the need to carry a one.

For you are the two and you are much more.

Beloved angels of great light, the divine twin energy within thee and around thee is seeking a great moment of reunification through the energization of the divine spark. This divine spark has received great, great momentum through the illumination and the reactivation of the molecular structure of unification that has birthed great vision on your planet now.

The pulsing beat of light in your world known as the great crystalline energy that is still mostly and largely deep and embedded within your gridded system, within the pulse-beat of the Gaia, is filled with light and illuminating again.

We invite thee to take one joy-filled moment and find a piece of natural area... a grass area... it does not mater... a sand area, a dirt area. Lay down and place thy ear on the planet. Ask to hear the crystalline grid as it is singing with great light again. You may also simply take off they shoes and bring thy feet and stand on the natural area of the earth. Point thy fingers down toward the earth. Feel the energetic rays of communion. Stand and invite a great connection of oneness for the two and the more are gathering.

Your silica structures are igniting again and within thy form, within thy temple, is a great silica structure, a great crystalline based navigating system that indeed once completely arisen again will grace you and bring you to a stunning reunification that cannot be met with a mind that seeks be only one without the power of two.
