Love vs. Knowledge

*Through Wisdom Teacher Sri Ram Kaa & Angelic Oracle Kira Raa
Delivered at the TOSA Light Portal May 27, 2006*

Yes! We are here! Indeed it is a glorious afternoon, is it not? For the Pillars of Light have ignited themselves and among this ignition they have ignited many others; and in the ignition, do we not all lift off indeed? Yes!

Breathing in the Crystalline Temple

You are in a crystalline temple, and you are in an opportune time to be able to expand ever more into your own fullness. We ask you to celebrate through breath. Can you celebrate through breath? Of course you can!

As you are celebrating through breath we encourage you now to celebrate every breath... every breath. For as you celebrate every single breath, as you celebrate the fact that you have lungs, and as you give yourself the gift of filling these lungs and exhaling the breath, do you feel the joyous understanding of all that is?

Breath is your gift! How do you use the gift?

Do you run around sometimes all panicked saying what happened to my breath, out of breath, short of breath, can not breathe! Yes!

It is imperative for you to remember that in the time of crystalline energization and expansion, all of you, Dearest children, all of you, breathe ever more. Breathe like you have never breathed before. Come out of the shadows and take in the breath. Yes. As you breathe you release much, as you breathe you open up and fulfill many destinies, do you not? Yes you do!

It is so good to see you all here today and as we offer you the energy of the breath, we wish for you to remember one thing. When you are in the truth of loving breath, when you can celebrate breath and not damn breath...many offer their breath damnation through saying can not breathe enough, do not breathe enough, shallow breath, can not breathe, must use puffy to breathe, whatever.

As you offer yourself the love of breath, as you offer yourself the gift of deep, Divine breath, in that recognition, love becomes all that is needed, all that you are, and all that becomes the one gift, in the Oneship of the One Being-ness.

Understanding Knowledge

You talk about knowledge on this planet, do you not? Knowledge, knowledge, knowledge, must have knowledge, crave knowledge, encyclopedias of knowledge, institutions of knowledge. We wish for you to consider this.

When you serve love you have everything, do you not?

Do you not? Yes!

When you serve knowledge you will constantly keep seeking.

Must know more, must understand more, must have more, it is an endless loop that will trap you in 3rd dimensional existence.

When you seek knowledge, you are perpetually seeking. When you seek love, you are perpetually filled, and in perpetual fulfillment, all knowledge already exists.

You end the search and live in the blissful state of Divine recognition that all is, all has been, all will always be.

How often do you take time away from Divine bliss and seek of more facts? Must have more facts, give me more facts! If it is not a fact then I will not pay attention.

Can you be in blissful state then? When you are constantly seeking, can you ever be found? It is imperative for you to remember, Dearest children, you are at the time where you are already found, you just need to know it! Have you looked lately into the depth of your own soul, into your own recognition of Divine Love? Are you loving yourself enough? Are you recognizing the Divine gift that you are?

Are you able to take in every moment of every day in the recognition of pure love, in the recognition that we are all, and we say “we”, that means us too, we are all sparks of the One Divine Light. When you love enough, could there ever be separation?

Could you ever hate another in that space? It would not be possible to even summon the word hate when you are in the spaciousness of Divine recognition of the Love of Oneness.

When you are in the Love of Oneness, when you are the Loving Oneness, all that you seek, all that you experience, all that you do, comes of You!

How could you hate you? And yet so many do. What a gift it is. You say Zadkiel, “What ya sayin’ here?”

Embracing Divine Oneness

It is important to recognize that as you visit and revisit and visit again that which you consider to be not enough, that which you consider to be disconnected from the spaciousness of deep Divine love of the core center, you are being gifted with the opportunity to call back into yourself the Divine oneness. It begins simply with the loving recognition of the truth of your own being. Consider to stop seeking knowledge for knowledge sake.

Do you seek knowledge for knowledge sake? It is a question you do not need to answer. You can simply ponder on. When you can come into the balanced perfection of the loving spaciousness of that which you are, from there, all knowledge reveals itself and it has already been revealed. You do not need to go on mad dash, give yourself the loving trust of your own Divinity. In the loving trust of your own Divinity, in the loving trust of your own presence, all that is will manifest before you.

Many say, how can that be? I do not have everything I want. Be careful what you ask for. Be careful how you ask.

Are you loving yourself enough to accept bliss?

Dearest children, so many do not accept bliss because they are of a perception that is disconnected in separateness and the separateness comes from a lack of core love. If you are indeed in core love, core essence alignment, deep self understanding, recognition, alignment and presence, absolute presence of being with the Divine at every moment, all flows, and it flows effortlessly.

It is a great gift when you offer yourself effortless flow, this is why it is so important to remember, Dearest children, you are here to experience everything!

Knowledge and Darkness

Darkness appears in the seeking of knowledge for the sake of knowledge because many unanswered questions allow the opportunity to gain for the purpose of the brain only. It is important to understand.

In the wholeness of Divine love, there can not ever be darkness.

In Divine love darkness does not exist.

Now this is not that one is better than another, for indeed without the light there can not be dark, and without the dark there can not be light. Yet as you are here on this glorious planet, as you are here at this time of coming into great culmination and recognition of Divine perfection of why you have come to this planet this time, right now, great party, no? Yes! As you are here and as you are enjoying the fun foods and as you are having fun, you must remember one thing; darkness manifests from the pursuit of knowledge for the sake of knowledge because it is a variant of the mind energy.

How do you know if you are in your heart?

How do you know if you are in your mind?

How are you feeling? What are you feeling? What is manifesting around you?

Dearest children, it is that simple, yet in the seeking of knowledge, it becomes difficult because all transmutes and all comes into variance. When you seek the Siddhi's for example. When you seek little mystical experiences, (siddhi's), you say open up the veil, let me see a light, let me see a color, let me do this, let me do that, what you are saying is that I will be entertained by the astral and content with stopping.

For many this is good, and for many it is important to recognize that wholeness comes when you are able to release a desire and an expectation for what you believe the Divine should offer you. Simply live in the presence of the Divine every moment of every day, with every single thing that you do!

Living in Divine Connection

Are you in the presence of the Divine at all times? Or does the mind come in and say you must start seeking knowledge?

What is important to you?

Know that all, all of these, are Divinely perfect. All of them. It is most imperative that you offer yourselves the great gift of recognizing the Divine perfection of all paths. We have had this conversation many times, no? Yes, many times! And in having this conversation many times, give ourselves the opportunity to ask "Where is my consciousness today? Who am I judging and why?"

You see Dearest children, we have offered you more than once that if you must believe in what you call sin, that only sin is to interfere in the path of another. Yet there is more to that.

Not only is it a sin to interfere in the path of another, it is to let another interfere in your own path. That is a sin you create against yourself, if you must use this word sin. (Audience murmurs).

Has one person stopped what you know is true? Have you let the energies of another being stop you from moving forward? Where is your heart? And if indeed you call that energy into yourself, love yourself for seeing what is incomplete! Love yourself for saying wonderful, I now see where my heart needs to heal ever more, I now understand where expansion must come in, I now understand how all must be.

Navigating Rapid Planetary Escalations

Dearest children, the 5th dimensional energies have escalated 10-fold over the past 4 months, you have felt it, oh yes. Many have felt it as chaos. Many have felt it as Divine chaos. Many accidents, many, many accidents, be it physical body accidents, car accidents, little things that seem like an accident. These accidents are designed to help you realign back into the heart energy. Many have polarized, even those, each of you, we are sure, know someone you say oh my goodness, how could this person be doing this or that. Release judgment, what they are doing is perfect for them, as the first, fifth and seventh dimensional energies are all now coming together into one energy vacuum.

You are preparing for a great implosion. You live in a world of explosion, did we not talk about that earlier, you live in a world where you like big bangs, hmm very much, yes. Can you make a bigger noise. Soon you will celebrate the time where you will send many big bangs into the air and all go "Yippee". It is important to recognize that you are heading towards a powerful time of implosion. Go deep into your heart center, call back in all the energies that you are. Pay attention to your life, pay attention to what has come forward for you. Look at every experience you have ever had and when you do, smile. Smile! Thank you, thank you, thank you!

You do not need to cross over to have a panoramic life review. You can do it right now, why wait, good seating here. Yes. Take time, look at every being. Every single being, every single one that you have spent time with, that you have loved with, that you have challenged with, that you have been with, did their job well, no? Can you love them for doing their job so well? Can you free them from your consciousness of attachment that it could have been different, should have been different? Can you give yourself the gift of loving recognition that truly all is in Divine order? And then, after your own panoramic life review, can you do a panoramic world review and come to peace with what you see around you? Big question, yes!

When you can come to peace with all that is around you, then you can hold consciousness for 100,000 others.

The Gift of Peaceful Self-Recognition

You want to make a difference? Come to peace with what is happening around you. Give yourself that gift. Do you wish to feed the explosion or do you wish to birth the heart implosion? What is your choice? And all choices are perfect. In the recognition of the Divine perfection of all that is happening around you, you will see beloved ones, the Divine perfection. So we encourage you, perhaps this time, perhaps some of you will say, hmm, maybe I will no longer seek knowledge for knowledge sake. Maybe I will let my heart guide me, maybe I will trust enough Divine flow to let effortless joy come through me, be me, show me, take care of me.

Dearest children, it is your choice, and either choice you make is a glorious one! However we do put little caveat on that for you. Regardless of your decision, you must allow yourself to release judgment of the choice you make (Audience laughs).

Yes! Many people say not me, uh huh, yes! It is important to recognize, you may say I can not believe I made this choice, bad me. We say panoramic life review! Forgive yourself.

You have played your part perfectly to bring you into greater awareness now.

Every one of your actions, every one of your interactions, every expression of your being-ness, your doing-ness, your recognition, all is in Divine order of great, great, great humility, gratitude, love and Divine recognition.

Humility...Gratitude...Love...Divine Recognition.

You wish a pattern for your life, there it is. Four simple things.

It is important for you to remember and recognize, Dearest children that when you can truly call forth the recognition of love, separateness can not exist. In the recognition of Diving Loving Source, you know that each of you is the other. Go ahead, look at each other. Oh it's not so hard. Yes. Give yourselves the gift of seeing yourself in everyone; of seeing your glorious Divine being-ness. Begin with yourself.

We encourage you to open the Divine portal of self truth. Self truth. Be true to your own recognition. Can you truly look into the eyes of the beloved YOU and say "I love you"? Is the energy coming from the truth of Divine recognition? Are you able to do this?

Dearest children, it is ok no matter what you do. Know how loved and supported you are. It is indeed your time. Together you are co-creating this moment. Every moment. All moments. Yes! We will take questions.

Q: Often times, as I evolve, my ego evolves as well and masquerades as my inner voice. How can I get so that the only inner voice that I hear is the Divine and the actual one?

What a powerful question because many are experiencing this energy! In the power of the spiritualized ego, which is what you have described, it offers one the opportunity to become ever more clear, ever more present. That gift that you can give yourself is to number one, breathe more, with conscious recognition of breath. When you hear, or you believe that you are hearing, breathe first, do not respond.

Bring your hand to your star consciousness, (area above the third eye), there you go, bring your other hand to your heart, yes you may all do. Star consciousness and heart, now breathe up into the star consciousness, bring the breath down to the heart, there you go, open your mouth, yes. You must open the mouth for the energies to flow, very good, now relax both hands to the stomach, both hands. Breathe in again, up and down, mouth open, very important, yes, and then you ask, "Is this my truth?" You will immediately hear yes or no. It is that simple. However many of you, when you hear the first yes or no, you do not trust it. You want to keep changing it. I wanted a yes and it said no so I'll keep asking until a get a yes. You must trust the first answer and keep practicing.

Q: I have been told that I've been invisible and I need to not be invisible anymore, and I need to try to claim my presence but I don't know how...?

What a great gift to declare I AM ready to be present, I am ready to be very visible, your visibility is imperative, it is why you are on the planet. You have gone through many events, you have had many challenges, these are now all clear for you. It is time for you now, to not only be visible, but to joyously celebrate your visibility. And how can you do that? Your body must move more, celebrate with body. Yoga, gentle yoga, dancing, very good for you, dancing circles, hmm, wonderful, yes, very good, and also offer yourself everyday the recognition that you are enough, that you are whole and that it is time for you to not only be present but to be seen and heard. You just need to know it is time, and it is.

Q: In my dreams, I work with people. I was working with a painter and he said to me, I put my paintings out there, and they're beautiful, but I can't sell them and I'm not famous. And I say to them, all you have to do is think of the frequency that you wish to obtain and put it in that painting and it will be glorious and you will be prosperous and successful. That's in that dimension, I'm having trouble translating that into this dimension. How do I do that?

In this dimension, how you are able to translate, as you say, from one dimension to another, is to let go of the expectation of what being famous looks like. That indeed is the sticking point. Create from the love, create from the Divine. Offer your counsel, as you say, to those from your Divine service, and offer yourself trust in your ability to offer pure Divine service. Together these two energies will definitely tap into a frequency of Divine manifestation, this is all you must do. Many blessings.

Q: How can I step into my full power? What more do I need to do?

Dearest children, all you need to do is trust your power is already there. We recognize and appreciate this can seem a simplistic answer, yet indeed as you spend every moment of everyday questioning your own power, seeking answers outside of yourself, you give away power rather than claim power. How many times do we all give away our power in the pursuit of factual knowledge instead of claiming our power from a space of pure love? Practice, you must practice, because habitually you are born into a world that teaches you to give away your power and not to trust. Give yourself the gift of the combined recognition of calling forth your power, and you will be delighted. Then you must ask yourself can I prepare to be delighted?

And so the Benevolent Ones, patient, beautiful, precious, come today with the 12 Crystalline Dragons. These 12 crystalline dragons represent the 12 primary energies that are present on your planet now, each one swirling into a new state of evolution. Each of you will have one brought to you. Open your heart, open your eyes, open your great Divine flow by breathing. Yes!

The Benevolent Ones Speak:

Hello, most Dearest precious wondrous perfect beings of Divine sacred energy. In the presence of your Divine sacredness, we step forward to offer you today the deep recognition that your heart has already opened to the transmuted energies that have come forward on your planet and many others.

Claiming Divine Unification

Can you recognize that you are One with more than just those of this world? Is your heart able to enter into Divine reunion with All-ness. In the all-ness, in the being-ness, in the truth of your Divine light, all presence, all knowing, all being is already unified, as you are unified.

We offer you today the energy of the great Unifiers. These are our brethren that have accompanied us to offer you the vehicle to be able to be a Unifier. How do you wish to unify?

For the love of your enemy, can you mend the fence? For the love of this planet, can you love again? For the love of your own expression as a body, can you again love the body? Can you recognize that you are the Divine Union? Whole, unified within.

As you give yourselves Divine unity, you can only be in complete wholeness. Trust your knowing of life. Expand your gift of being. We offer you many new alignments and many new energies.

*As you stretch out of this body and allow your true energy to express, you will find abundant flows of new understanding, new ways of being,
Everything aligns as you align.*

Always know you are the great Unifiers. If it does not feel as if you are unifying, if you feel that you are in separation, if you are running from unification, then you must ask yourself, why do I run from myself? For indeed it all rests with you. You are only running from you. And know that we will catch you! You can not fall.

WISDOM TEACHER

SRI RAM KAA & KIRA RAA

ANGELIC ORACLE

There are two planets presently coming much closer to this world and soon these energies will create chaotic flow for many, and for you it will bring great joy. Be joyously recognizing that you are indeed ready. It is time. You must trust your own Divine service. You are the Divine service. You are the Divine service. You are the Divine service. You are the Divine service, and we love you.

Soon we will be with you ever more and yet we are never apart, and so it is Dear Ones. Be the Unifier. Ask yourself in all of your interactions, am I a Unifier? Can I hold the energy of Unity?

In the energy of Unity there is no judgment, there is no right, there is no wrong. There is the unification, and the Divine perfection. We love you. Many blessings.
